

Enterprise-class Colocation

Colocation remains a critical service today as the demand for enterprise-class Colocation is being driven by environmental regulations and an increasingly online presence.

Organisations selecting Exponential-e for Colocation choose our service as it exceeds the market norms for security, power and service level requirements.

...with a service level to match

Exponential-e's Colocation service is located in some of the UK's newest Tier 3 Data Centres. Our service agreement includes connectivity, power availability, latency, packet loss, and controlled temperatures and humidity levels. In addition, we provide a contractual guarantee that the service level remains consistent throughout the duration of the service.

We provide 100% uptime and sub 1 milli-second latency to the major UK Internet hubs.

The facility has multiple layers of physical security and offers high power densities of up to 32 Amps (A+B power feeds), whilst maintaining green credentials.

About the Data Centres

Our Tier 3 Data Centres are located in prime locations in North and West London served with excellent transport links and on-net connectivity into Exponential-e's 100GigE metro Network. The sites are in a highly secure environment featuring multiple layers of authentication, including visual identification and biometrics.
