Exponential-e's Virtual Chief Information Security Officer Service provides the Customer with:

- (i) An Initial Security Assessment over a three (3) day period;
- (ii) On-site and Remote Access to a Cyber Security Expert with globally recognised qualifications, and who has held Senior Cyber Security roles (the "VCISO"). The total number of on-site days over the Initial Term, the frequency of on-site visits and the site at which the on-site team will be provided to, will be specified on the Order Form. The Parties shall agree in writing, following Order acceptance, mutually-agreeable dates for the on-site days to occur;
- (iii) Email and Telephone Support (during Normal Business Hours); and
- (iv) a Monthly Security Management Report,

each as further described below.

The VCISO Service begins with the Exponential-e Cyber Security Team performing an assessment of the Customer's Governance and IT Security requirements, the aim of which is to understand the security environment within which the VCISO Service will be provided. After this has been completed, email and telephone support will commence.

Initial Security Assessment

This will cover the Customer's IT and Governance Security Controls in order to give Exponential-e an understanding of the Customer's current security environment.

On Site Days

While on-site the VCISO is available to assist in a range of Information Security activities including:

- » Pro-active Information Security Risk Management – The VCISO will review current threats and identify areas which might affect the Customer's organisation, and advise on how to prevent the threat from becoming an incident by putting in appropriate mitigation controls.
- » Information Security Consultancy to Business and IT – The VCISO will be able to offer advice to the business and IT in order to help reduce risk and improve the organisations security.
- » Information Security Audit Plan Management – The VCISO can help prepare and support the Customer through security audits. This includes security related questions from clients and potential clients.
- » Security Incident Escalation, Response and Co-ordination – The VCISO will be able to help and support the internal team if there is an incident, but it is important to note that the VCISO Service is not an Incident Response Service.
- » Change Request – Security Impact Assessment – The VCISO will be able to review changes before they are implemented to make sure that they will not impact the security of the organisation.
- » Review IT System Configurations / Reports for Security Issues and Advise Accordingly – The VCISO will be able to review infrastructure and help improve the configuration, whilst highlighting any issues that might arise.
- » Serve on Customer's IT / Governance Steering Committees (if required) – The VCISO can be used as a Subject Matter Expert to guide any internal steering groups or advise management teams.
- » Training and Awareness – The VCISO can be used to provide training to an organisation on specific security topics, in order to help enhance the security and reduce risk.

Telephone and Email Support

For times when there is not a VCISO on-site, the Customer may contact the Exponential-e Cyber Security Team during Normal Business Hours by telephone and email. This is intended for advisory assistance only and the duration of the calls will be deducted from the days purchased for on-site support.

Security Management Report

A Monthly Report shall be provided, indicating the key activities that the VCISO and the Exponential-e Cyber Security Team have been engaged with during the month. In addition, it will provide information regarding New System Patches for the Main Operating Systems, that will need to be considered within the organisation.
